As 1987 kicked off students streamed into M.D. Collins. Long lines for ID pictures and class schedules stretched out into crowded halls, while practices lasted through sweltering afternoons and cool evenings. Act 1 catches the spark at M.D.C.

ACT 2

11-22-32-Hike. Football with the Cougars brought a season full of band dances, touchdown passes, and auxiliary performances. Goals, both on and off the field, were met and shall we say surPASSED.

ACT 3

And the 1986-'87 M.D. Collins Homecoming Queen was . . . the climax of a hectic spirit week filled with outlandish costumes and painted banners. The Woodland Warriors whined as the Cougars pounced.

INTERMISSION

There was life after 3:15 when the hundreds of fashion clad students exited M.D. Collins. Fads and fashion, top ten and teen clubs, work and play occupied the teenage life.

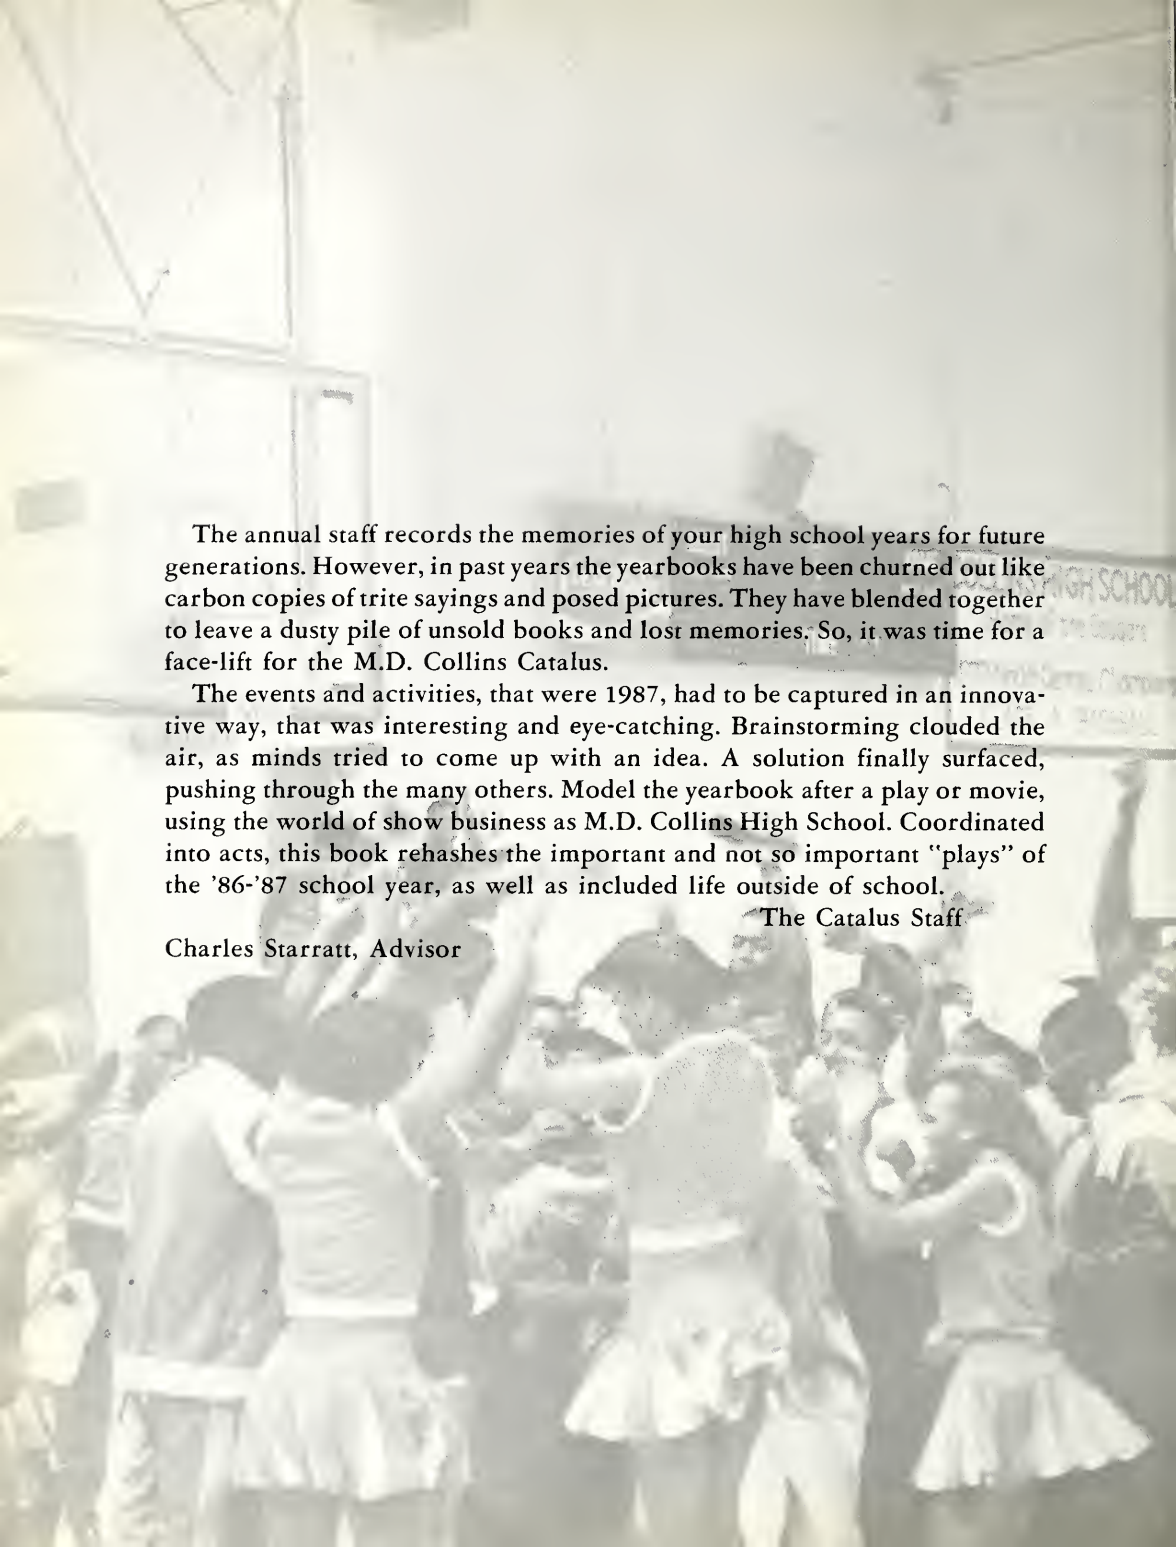
SNEAK

A Few Scenes From "CATALUS '87"

Agents were contacted and telephones rang, while letters landed in mailboxes across College Park and Riverdale. The call was out for a few good actors and actresses for the M.D. Collins' production of 1987. A surge of talented hopefuls poured in—all unique and different, but all spirited and enthusiastic. A variety of people came together to put on a show not soon to be forgotten—each having a vote to play.

PREVIEW



The annual staff records the memories of your high school years for future generations. However, in past years the yearbooks have been churned out like carbon copies of trite sayings and posed pictures. They have blended together to leave a dusty pile of unsold books and lost memories. So, it was time for a face-lift for the M.D. Collins Catalus.

The events and activities, that were 1987, had to be captured in an innovative way, that was interesting and eye-catching. Brainstorming clouded the air, as minds tried to come up with an idea. A solution finally surfaced, pushing through the many others. Model the yearbook after a play or movie, using the world of show business as M.D. Collins High School. Coordinated into acts, this book rehashes the important and not so important "plays" of the '86-'87 school year, as well as included life outside of school.

CASTING

Stars signed up for a new season, bringing with them all sorts of characteristics masked behind a variety of backgrounds. The inexperienced versus the experienced lined up for their shot at stardom, but there is always a price for fame.

Could Mrs. Jones be discussing script changes with two actors?

Fame requires patience and persistance.

CALL

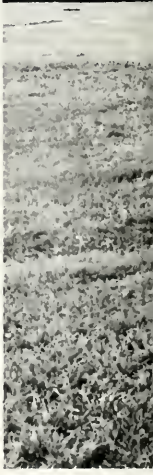
On the way to becoming a star, one has to discover the part he or she plays best. Activities, organizations and clubs help to better define our foles.

FBLA believes there's no business like show business.

Pei-Ru Wen was willing to give up fame and fortune for a chance to experiment behind the scenes.

Practice Makes

"Keep it up, Keep it up, Keep that Cougar Spirit up!"



Bryan Holmes was a marked man during practice.

Perfect!

The drill team strutted their stuff through a winning season.

The band marched through practice with their heads held high.

Angela Coleman spun her way to fame and fortune.

A sparkling percussion section demonstrated "the beat" of success.

Here in the hallowed halls of M.D. Collins High and the hallowed courtyard and the hallowed track and field—students spend hours upon hours of their spare time rehearsing and perfecting their particular role. The cheerleaders, band, auxiliaries, and sports teams are brimming with spirit because they know that—PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT!

A Smashing Success

Playoff Bound

The girls volleyball team, led by coach Mark Harris, completed another successful season, coming in third in the county and making it to the state playoffs for the second time in a row. In fact, during the season and post season, the Lady Cougars knocked off the #1 team three different times.

With a region record of 10-6, the Cougars competed against the Lakeshore Lancers, Campbell Bears, Westwood, and Feldwood Flames and came out on top. Moving on into post season play, consisting of the South Fulton Tourney, Fulton County Tourney, and the state playoffs, hosted by Westminster, they had a record of 3-6.

A spirited team. The experienced banned together with the inexperienced to slam and volley to victory.

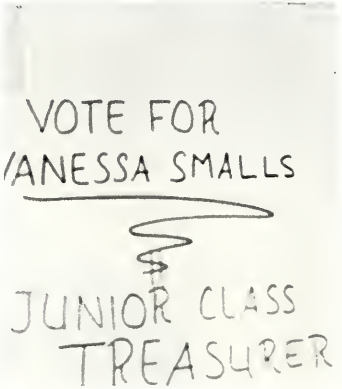
JUNIORS PREPARE FOR STARDOM

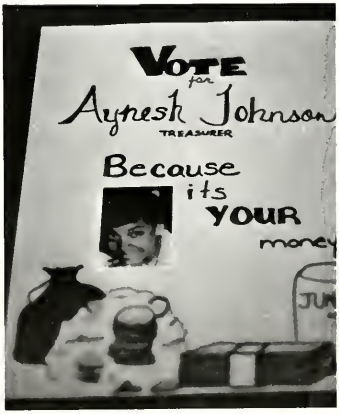
Preparing for future success, the juniors began to order memories of their pre-Broadway days. Below Sharon Bennett negotiated with Balfour over her personalized ring.

Natural born producers, the juniors organized a fund raiser for the biggest event in the business, the prom. With Mr. Richardson co-directing, the show was sure to go off without a hitch.

AUDITIONS

Intense campaigning with posters, pins, and candy, along with dramatic readings was the setting of the auditions for Student Council. Students rallied support for their causes with the hope of landing a lead role.





Yolanda Davis, Sharon Brown, Kiawana Johnson, and Valecia Bell anxiously wait their turn to audition for their role.

The Courtyard Scene

As the year went on, M.D. Collins students did their very best to pass the time and the courtyard was the center attraction. The courtyard was for socializing, lying in the sun, posing for pictures, catching up on the latest gossip, and just having fun. M.D.'s students specialized in picture taking and as you can see, when the camera hits the courtyard, faces pop us from everywhere. It's like saying "Lights, Camera, Action!"

At M.D. we do believe in posing.

ACT 2

HIGH STEPPING

The Band Marched into '87

The '86-'87 Cougars Marching Band formed in early August. Stepping into a tiring routine of lengthy practices and note learning. But it all paid off. Football season came and the band was ready with new uniforms and contemporary music and lots of spirit. Halftime shows ranged from light displays to dynamic dances. Tuned and precise, the band marched at home, away and at Georgia Tech for Band Day. The band, supported by fellow students and concerned parents, sold entertainment books and satin letter jackets.

The band was supported by parents, as Mrs. Harper, who transported instruments, equipment, and helped in fund raisers.

Mr. Wucher, band director, tunes up the band before they played.

The band practiced daily to learn new routines and dances.

The seniors took some time out of their busy schedules for some spirited fun and horseplay.

SPIRIT IN THE LIMELIGHT

The Varsity Cheerleading Squad was a unit made up of ten spirited girls. Chosen after grueling tryouts in the spring, their adventure had just begun. Practices started immediately. They attended summer camp at Ga. Tech, where they rehearsed and learned numerous routines and cheers. These cheers were practiced relentlessly during the afternoons from August to March.

Not only do the cheerleaders lead the cheers for the varsity teams thru rain and cold, victories and defeats, they also helped the junior varsity cheerleaders, painted creative banners, sold school colors, and performed creative pep rally entertainment-all in the name of COUGAR SPIRIT!

The cheerleaders shedded their usual uniform for a pep rally performance to "You Be Illing".

All the Way

The 1986-87 Varsity football team placed second in the 5-AA subretion championship game, where they were defeated by the Gordon Generals. Coming back from a disappointing loss against the North Clayton Eagles to begin the season, the Cougars charged ahead to win seven straight games. Stepping over the Lakeshore Lancers 14 to 6, for the first time in years and being victorious 27 to 0 in the homecoming game against the Woodland Warriors. Now ranked in the State, the Cougars faced the Feldwood Flames in a game that would decide first place in the 5-AA sub-region and playoff position. An intense game, the Flames pulled away 14 to 12, even though the Cougars had more yardage and fewer turnovers. Still, the season was not over, for the Cougars beat the College Park Rams 24 to 0, to end the regular season 8 and 2 and in second place. Post season play began against the Lovett Lions away. Revved up, the Cougars handed undefeated Lovett their first loss 14 to 8, but it didn't last long. The Generals stopped the Cougars 8 to 15, despite high spirits. Ending the season, 11 and 3, the Cougars were proud of their successful year.

J.V. Football

The Collins Junior Varsity Football Team had its most successful season since 1984, winning 6 games and losing only one. The offense averaged 29.5 points per game, and the defense had four shut-outs and gave up only an average 4.1 points per game. Congratulations to these future varsity stars!

Crowd Motivators

JV.!! Three cheers for our great Junior Varsity Cheerleading squad. Spirit, Spirit, Spirit was the overwhelming effect they had on the crowd. Whether at games or pep rallies, they really got the crowd shouting.

The cheerleaders attended Georgia Tech's summer camp at the Georgia Tech campus. They displayed their great cheering and leaping abilities.

From practicing to painting signs, our Junior Varsity Cheerleading squad was a real crowd motivator.

The squad was led by Captain LaShaun Payton and Co-Captain Kim Hayes. The other members of the squad were Valerie Jones, Trinita Williams, Rashida Fareed, Taniscia Rowe, Tina Hough, Twana Webb, and Tora Gardner. All of these girls worked hard and did an outstanding job!

A Shot of Excellence

The rifle corp, as the other auxiliaries practiced continually. From summer camp to afternoon band practice, the group was dedicated. Combining twirling and marching the coorp, added a unique quality to the band. With new rifles, decorated with reflective tape, the corp was a crowd pleaser.

ACT 3

Mark Rommelman dressed to the tee on Nerd Day.

Rhonda Bussey worked steadily into the night on the eighth grade hall, painting, drawing and cutting out signs and decorations.

With balloons and banners, the homecoming pep rally was out of this world.

Spirit Brings Out the Best!

Spirit week was filled with outrageous costumes, colorful banners, hours of hard work and lots of SPIRIT. Paint splashed as the classes competed in a hall contest with themes such as "All the Way to Heaven in '87" and "The Cougars are on the Woodland Warriors Warpath".

Individuals showed their enthusiasm and imagination by dressing according to special themes, like Nerd Day or International Day.

Fired up, we were ready for the planned chaos of the pep rally, when the Homecoming Kings from all grades were announced, and the Varsity Cheerleaders strutted their stuff to "You Be Illin' ". Chants of class dominance sounded throughout the gym as the bell rang and students now looked forward to Homecoming night.

Kiawana Johnson chilled out to "You Be Illin' " for a crowd pleasing rap session. (This was not the fashion statement that made Kiawana "best dressed".)

Being nominated for eleventh grade Homecoming King would make some men nervous, but not Mario Williams, Datwon Scroggins and Andre Langford.

SATURDAY NIGHT LIVE

"... I remember everyone handing me tissue, but it wasn't until the pictures came back that I saw the tears ..."

Saturday, November 2nd, 1986 proved to be a most memorable night at M.D. Collins, for it was ... HOMECOMING 1986!

At half-time, out stepped the schools finest, decked out in a dazzling array of designers "originals", like stars on opening night. Representatives from each grade and the overwhelming crowd anxiously awaited the announcing of the 1986-87 homecoming queens. As the band created a human gateway, the nominees walked gracefully, escorted by a gentleman, towards the sidelines.

Lined up in class sections, the queens, chosen by their peers for their outstanding qualities, were announced and congratulated. With arms full of roses, they basked in the cheers and flashing camera lights.

The varsity football team received congratulations after defeating the Woodland Warriors.

Elated, Kim Reynolds basked in her moment of glory. With tears and smiles, she shared her crowning with her escort, her father.

Tangie Warrior was pinned Miss Red and Gold, with the assistance of Kim Veal.

Hickma Blackman and her escort stood by regally, as Kim Reynolds surrounded by her court, waved to the crowd.

COUGARETTES!

The Flag Corps' routines appear to be done effortlessly, but that happens only with long-term preparation and long practice. After tryouts in the spring and summer camp at Dekalb College, the corps came back to school early to summer band practice. Performing with the band during halftime meant practice with the band after school daily.

Twirling a pole while marching in step to a patterned routine takes coordination, concentration, and cooperation. All juniors except Capt. Twanda Evans and Co. Capt. Denise Carpenter, the majority of the corp will return next year to razzle-dazzle us.

Drill Team Steps In

From Start to Finish, Catamounts are #1!

The '86 Catamounts started a smashing season on the camp grounds of University of Georgia in Athens. Though they made a pretty slow start at camp, they later picked up, bringing home with them the spirit pom and dozens of blue ribbons.

During the season they dazzled the crowds at half-time with their creative movements and spectacular smiles. When they weren't on the fields performing, they were in the stands cheering on their favorite team the Cougars, and representing the highlights of the band, but the games weren't the only places to perform. This year they were invited to a Band Workshop at Georgia Tech along with the band and their auxilaries, where they had to show their quick learning abilities and better dancing skills. All of the excitement, of course, didn't come through all play. The Collins Drill Team put in many after school hours to choreograph and perfect new routines. It took hard work and 100% effort. Through all of the fun and all of the pain, when it was all over . . . it was worth it!

The Student Council

The Student Council's most important function is to keep the students in touch with the administration. The Student Council is students who have been elected by their peers to represent them in the political matters of the school, and serve until the end of the year. The students present ideas, suggestions and comments to the administration and work to implement M.D. Collins policies. They serve as the voice of the entire school student body. Under the supervision of Mrs. Grainger and Mrs. White, the student council sponsored such activities as the Red Cross blood drive, can goods for the needy, the Valentine dance, and many other school and community projects. The main events of the year were Homecoming, Spirit Week, and Homecoming night. During Spirit Week, each class decorated its hall in the spirit of competition, and voted for its representatives on the Homecoming Court. On Homecoming night, the winners were warmly recognized and presented with beautiful flowers perfect for pressing in their memory books.

Memories

Jackie Pendergrass showed spirit on the drill team and became our '84-'85 Homecoming Queen.

Many people have been here before, have passed through the crowded halls, written graffiti in the lockers and started food fights in the cafeteria, who were our friends. They might have moved on, but they are not forgotten. To the ones who have touched our lives throughout high school, we dedicate this page to them.

Times have changed, friends have moved on and people hav matured, as this picture of Val Bell, Kim Davis, and Ki Nelson clearly shows.

The people who have touched our lives don't always come back, but there are those special few. These return to give support, give advice, and guidance and leave a spark in your eyes when you see them.

TAG

T.A.G. The talented and gifted program in Fulton County is an eclectic group of people. All students who meet certain requirements, from the eighth grade to Senior year, are eligible to partake in TAG programs, which include seminars, special projects in classes, and group discussions. A highlight of the year was the Media Center display of projects by TAG students who had taken part in a class on tessalations, an abstract mathematical concept that has design applications. Mrs. Scheer is the TAG teacher and works with every department and nearly every teacher in the school to provide challenging experiences for all TAG students.

A Winning Season

The men's basketball team had a winning season this year and showed great promise for the future. Being in a competitive region—Lakeshore won the State Tournament—meant a tough schedule, but Coach Bonner's team played everyone tough, losing some very close games and winning their share. The basketball season lasts four months and only dedicated players are able to put forth the effort and toil that is required to succeed. The Seniors on the team, Tim Brown, Steve Cleveland, Chris Holmes, Richard Lampkin, Antoine Stephens, and Darrell Roberts helped provide the leadership that every team needs. Assistant coaches Dollison and Fletcher worked hard all year—They both also coah other teams—to aid Coach Bonner. Perhaps the season's highlight was the triple overtime victory against Russell. Their was also a six game winning streak in the middle of the season.

Another Winning Year

Working hard to be the best, to be winners

The crowds are not always the biggest, but the desire, dedication, effort, and rewards are the same for all who play the game.

Girls Basketball

The Girls basketball team was successful again this year, advancing to the tournament only to lose to Lakeshore. Seniors Lisa Pierce and Monica Willis were leaders all year, as they have been for several years. Coach Williams has most of his players returning next year and expects to carry on the winning tradition. Basketball requires long periods of practice, much hard work, and great physical effort; this year's version of the Lady Cougares fulfilled all of those requirements and added talent, a winning combination. Everyone at Collins owes them a cheer.

It has few people in the cheering section, but the work is just as hard. These men usually are working because of their love of the game and their hopes for the future. Come to think of it, there are few better things to work for. When you make the varsity, we promise to salute your efforts.

ACT 5

Tennis Team

This year's tennis team is notable not only for its talent but also for its promise for the future; all of the players are undergraduates. Coached by Ms. Morris and Mr. Wind, the team is already highly competitive and should be among the best in the next few years. The Wen sisters, Pei-Yu and Pei-Ru, follow in the footsteps of their brother David, who graduated last year, as the best players on the team. But the hard work and dedication of the other players has made everyone on the team capable of being a winner.

Pei-Yu Wen waits to return serve.

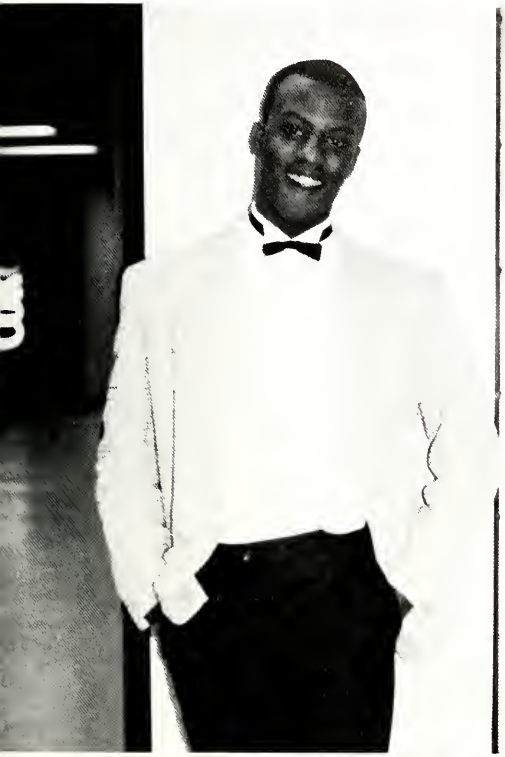
Valentines Shine In The Night

While the friends and party-goers who attended the Valentine's Day Dance were few in number, they had enough fun for a much larger group. They danced to the music of a professional D.J., listened to two Rap groups, and saw the King and Queen of Hearts crowned. The music was great, the food was free, and the mood was up-beat. Young love, fun and Valentine's Day. Who could dream of anything better?

Even the staff workers had fun, although their work came first as they sold tickets to Scott Burnam and Karel Butler.



Tim Brown, and Kim Hayes pose for the camera in all their finery.

Tina Martin and Robert Vickers were finalists. We do not claim to know the other people at the table.

Baseball Team

The Boys of Spring

Baseball! The American game. Sun, pepper games, the clank of the bat, speed power, pitching, team play, individual moments of victory or despair. The M.D. Collins Baseball team, coached by Coach Belcher, draws fewer fans than the other major sports, but they play just as hard. Their is something rewarding about being on a baseball team, something timeless that makes winning more staisfying and losing less devasting. Playing at the Collins; field, surrounded by trees, with friends and family around, cheering and encouraging, could provide moments that last a lifetime.

The infield returns to their positions.

The M.D. Collins track team, both men's and women's, have a history of being competitive on the state level; this year should be no exception. With a team of veterans and talented newcomers, the team could challenge for the state championship and, perhaps, set records in several events.

For example, Rodney Tew, Sr., last year came in second in the state in the discus and is better this year. He has a chance to get State All-American, according to Coach Sutherland. Bryan Holmes, last year's state champ in the two mile has an excellent chance to repeat this year.

A Step Ahead

Shon Walker, sixth in 1986, could place first in the hurdles this year. Another Senior, Kylin Camp has every chance to finish highly placed in the triple jump. He was last year's Fulton County, Tri-city champ.

The Track team does not draw large crowds, just the rewards of working hard and winning.

The Girl's Track team has a chance to be the state champion team this year. They won a prestigious early meet in Florida and have some outstanding performers. Lisa Pierce, Tracy Green, and Monica Willis are among the best.

Coaches Hansard and Cunningham have assembled an impressive array of talent this year, including some proven, dedicated Seniors, like Felicia Simmons (left). They expect to be leading contenders for the state championships this Spring.

Against 25 teams from several states, the team took First Place at the North Florida Relays. Monica Willis had two victories, Lisa Pierce a first and second, and Tracy Green a second and third.

National Honor Society

Membership in the National Honor Society is a meaningful honor which many students at M.D. Collins have achieved. This club recognizes those students who have maintained a grade point average of 3.5 or better. The purpose of this club is to reward superior scholarship, leadership, character, and service among juniors and seniors. Membership is by invitation only, based on these criteria. The National Honor Society is advised by Cynthia Jenkins and Carol Bates.

CATALUS STAFF '87
We Made It Happen

Yearbook consists of a painful accumulation of information, pictures, paper, graphics, rulers, and time, which somehow must be organized and compiled into a two hundred page account of the school year by February, if you are lucky. No one can fully comprehend the time and effort involved in producing a yearbook, unless they have spent their own time and effort doing it. The yearbook staff gave up many hours after school, sometimes sacrificing schoolwork and social activities, to complete the yearbook. Although working on the annual was a major effort, it was also fun. The long hours were spent with friends—old and new, laughing over silly mistakes and old jokes, eating cold pizzas and dring hot sodas, and trying to stop Kim Reynolds from singing. They were hours well worth spending.

Let's try this one more time.

Graduation and Prom

The two biggest nights of a student's years in high school are Graduation and Senior Prom nights. Both are sure to remain in the memory for years, decades, to be talked about, savored with pride. Both take much preparation.

Graduation from high school is, of course, the result of years of work, from kindergarten up to twelfth grade. The last few months are full of details, ordering rings, caps and gowns, and invitations, inviting guests, and practicing the walk across the stage to get your diploma. You have succeeded! You are a graduate. Your work has been recognized. You have reached a major turning point in your life, and ending and a beginning.

Congratulations!

The Prom! New dresses and corsages, tuxes and cumberbunds. Boys and girls become ladies and gentleman. Great music, expensive dinners, and wonderful parties are all parts of the experience; but it is the emotion, they joy of a formal, long-planned affair, the sadness that it marks a parting . . . that makes the Prom magic. Whether you go with a long-time friend, or ask someone you've never dated before, you will always remember this night. Enjoy it, remember it, and treasure it!

SENIORS

As time passes, dancing waltzes in.

The long, successful five year run of the class of '87 is ending. Before preforming their final show, the seniors celebrate with dress and drink—sparkling mineral water. Laughter and memories surge through the room, as old tales are remembered.

Eighth grade premieres are retold with mass appeal.

The challenge was given and they passed. To them, a toast to their futures and their final show.

Playing The Roles

It might be hard to believe, but the seniors of '87 perform a number of roles other than student. From cheerleaders and clowns to athletes and friends, they occupy their time supporting M.D. Collins and adding that extra dimension to our lives. Seniors have spent the last five years shuttling to and from, shuffling wrinkled papers and shouting through crowded halls.

Locker combinations and lunch schedules will fade fast as graduation and college become the present instead of the distant future. Each senior leaves a part of himself or herself, whether it be blood, sweat, or tears.

The time has come. The long hard journey is almost over for the seniors of '87 and some just can't believe the final showing is now!

Only a few, brave souls ventured to transform themselves into blood donors for the Red Cross. Artis King acted out the part well after conquering his stagefright.

Aginah Muhammad, Clint Magby and Tamiko Phillips are just a portion of the friendly cast that make up the class of '87.

Kirk Harris, an athlete . . . another role to play. Seniors are active in all sports from tennis and track to volleyball and football.

JUNIORS

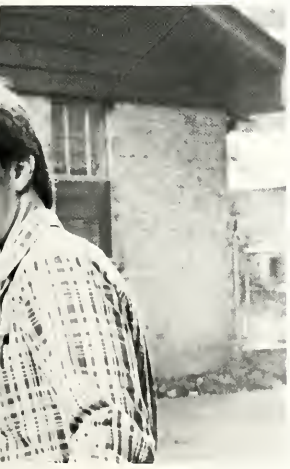
The plight of the poor Junior classmen. Not quite the top of the school, although they may think so; no longer lost or unsure of themselves in classes or socail occassions; they study, participate, and wait for the next year to come. This particular Junior class is full of achievers, a reall success story. They are leaders in sports, club, and classes. They show promise of making the wait for Senior year a worthwhile one.

The yearbook staff is especially proud of Aynesh Johnson, Editor-in-chief while a Junior. Thanks, Aynesh.



Some of us just wish we were Juniors.

is the lot of the tenth grader. You've left the Freshman year behind, but your not an upperclassman yet. On the other hand, you know your way around, you have begun to make yourself known, and the end is really in sight. You know the teachers and they know you, for good or bad. FRESHMEN

High School for Real

Everywhere you look there are Freshmen, doing everything, with everybody.

Finally, the "scrub" year is over. You've arrived. You can play for the Junior Varsity, think about electives, look down on the eighth graders, and start seriously thinking about the now possible dream—being a Senior. Freshmen are in every group, every club, and every sport. In some they are already leaders, like Pei—Yu Wen in Tennis. The politicians are beginning to identify themselves, like Terrance McMillian. Others are On the track team, are majorettes, or are just hanging out with the group. That future they were warned about as children has begun.

Freshmen—movin' on up.

These pictures to the contrary, Freshmen studied too. They were well represented on the honor rolls.

HERE WE COME

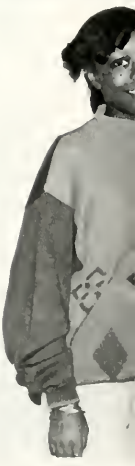
Pre-Freshmen

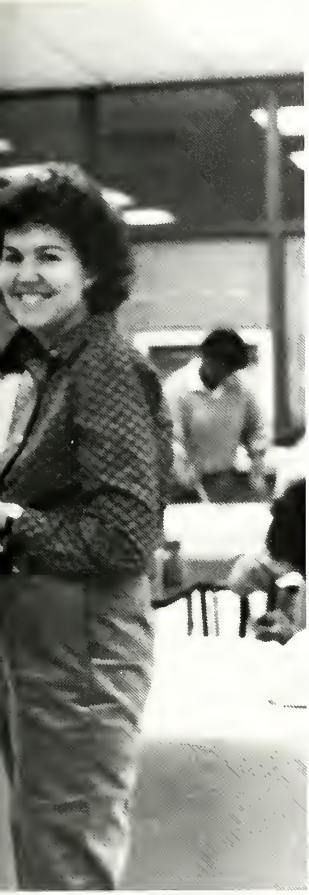
Eighth Grade and Rising

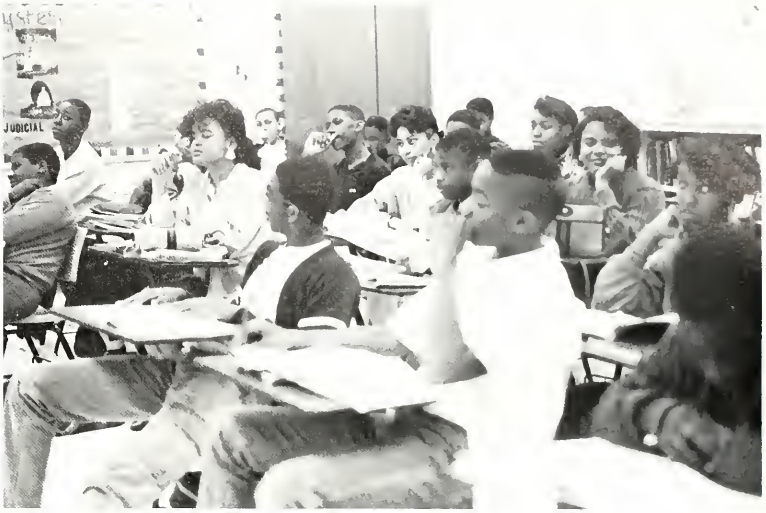
We have arrived!

Pre-Freshmen have a chaotic life. They are not used to high school, the upper classmen sometimes make fun of them, and it seems as if Senior year is a long time away. On the other hand, they are no longer in elementary school, they have begun to move toward graduation, and next year they can send the new Pre-Freshmen to the elevator to the second floor. Lifelong friendships are beginning to be made. The social life of a teenager has begun. High school sports can be played and watched.

This will be a familiar sight for the next five years.







The encouraging thing is that only one student is facing the camera.

Deandria Sims and Audra Harper smile for the photographer.

TEACHER AUTOGRAPH PAGE

DIRECTORS AND PRODUCERS

The principal of a large high school has a twofold job. He has to look inward to the welfare of students, faculty, and staff, providing the best possible learning and working environment. He must also look outward, to parents and community, informing them of the school's mission and accomplishments. Only people who are talented and dedicated can do all of this. Mr. Turner is such a man. He has a vision of the perfect high school and works to create it at M.D. Collins.

What Can I Say!

Miss Collins puts all her soul—or perhaps blood—into her role.

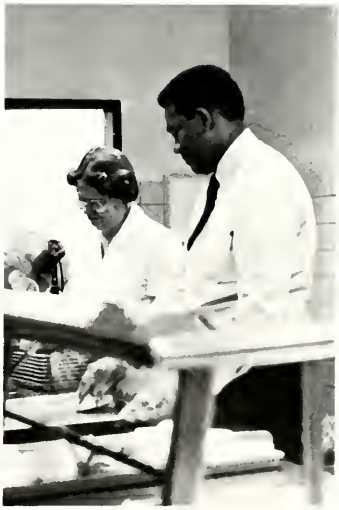
Johnny Jones "takes five," after a grueling day on the set.

After reciting lines all day, Mr. Richardson breaks to quench his thirst.

Dishing it out.

Teachers not only teach required courses, but also sponsor a variety of different activities. To play their role, the teachers produce the Literary Magazine, Newspaper, Annual, and essay contests, allowing many avenues for students to find their walk of fame. Besides speech coaching and script writing, these teachers play dual roles. They change from mild-mannered directors to supervisors for the Student Council, Academic Bowl, Science Bowl and other organizations. Their role is a role well-done.

Mrs. Woodruff performs her imitation of a student.



Mr. Turner breaks from his usual image to broaden his horizons in the lunch wagon.

Dear Daughter,
We remember when . . .

Wishing you success and happiness always,

Love
Mom, Dad, and Brother

Our baby, who is very ambitious;
Be patient with yourself, grow in your own mind because you have only failed when you have failed to try.
Have faith in God and yourself and may every milestone of your life reflect a brilliant star, and may God bless and keep you safe no matter where you are. We are very proud of you!

Love always,
Mom and Dad

If you can't be a pine on top of the hill be a scrub in the valley but be the best little scrub by the side of the hill. If you can't be a highway, be a trail. If you can't be the sun, be a star. It isn't by the size that you win or fail; be the best of whatever you are.

Your sisters,
Joyce, Hershell, Jackie, and your Dog Freeway

Congratulations
Kiawana!
I am very proud of you!
Love,
your Grandmother
